Dear Parents and Carers,

On Thursday 7th March, staff and pupils will once again be celebrating World Book Day with an exciting programme of activities throughout the school day.

The day before our official World Book Day celebration we are delighted to welcome back into school 'West End in School' to help us retell a familiar story through dance. All children in school will have a workshop throughout the day on Wednesday 6th March.

What will we be doing during the day?

Our school theme for this year is 'Dress as a Word'. We will also be taking part in cross key stage book activities in the afternoon. Prizes will be awarded throughout the day to pupils that demonstrate their commitment to develop or improve their reading skills.

Competition – Read in an unusual place

Leading up to World Book Day, we would love if you could send a photo of your child reading in an unusual place, as long as it is safe to do so. There will be a winner in both Key Stage One and Key Stage Two for the most unusual place. Please send a photo to your child's class email.

Parents and Carer Participation

We would like to invite you to come into school and share a story with your child/children from 2.30pm in the school hall.

We hope your child will enjoy our World Book Day activities. If you have any questions about World Book Day please feel free to contact either your child's class teacher or myself.

Kind regards,

Miss Coote
